

One Way to Say Thanks- Honor an Educator

The school year is coming to a close. Desks are cleaned out and goodbyes are said. Families look for ways to thank people who have made a difference in the lives of their children. A teacher, the bus driver, an aide, dance instructor or perhaps a coach might be among them. If you are looking for a thank you that will prove meaningful and beneficial to many, please consider honoring that special person with a donation to the Success Fund.

The Success Fund was formed in November 2007 by people committed to enhancing children's education. The Fund operates as a foundation for education. Members of the committee partner with parents, teachers, Marshall Public schools and the community at large to identify innovative projects and programs for children within the Marshall Public School system. Money raised supports those programs. One major project supported last year was funding text books for some of the classrooms.

Please consider honoring that special educator with a donation. The names of those honored and those honoring will be published in the Chronicle/AdVisor. Your thoughtful gift honors one and benefits many. Thank you.
