

Success Fund Website Profiles Marshall Alumni

The Success Fund--a local organization devoted to funding innovative educational projects within the Marshall Public School system--has been spotlighting exceptional MPS alumni as a way of highlighting the incredible talents and successes of Marshall graduates.

So far, five MPS alumni have been profiled at the group's website (www.successfund.org). These featured graduates represent diverse professional fields, including the arts, design, education, and entrepreneurialism. Some of the featured alumni remain local, while others have moved to other Michigan cities or out of state. Previous profiles include architect James Mohn ('80), science teacher Rebecca Josephson-Gorinac ('87), business owner Ian Schnaitman ('97), and actor Matthew Crowle ('00). The current honored alumnus is Elinor Marsh ('88), Executive Director of the Battle Creek Music Center.

As committee member Susan Love explains, "Success can be defined in so many ways, so we are proud to highlight a diverse group of very successful Marshall graduates who have excelled in their chosen fields." To read complete biographical entries on all honored alumni, or to nominate a graduate for the Alumni Spotlight, visit the Success Fund website, www.successfund.org, or email ideas to successfundformps@gmail.com.
